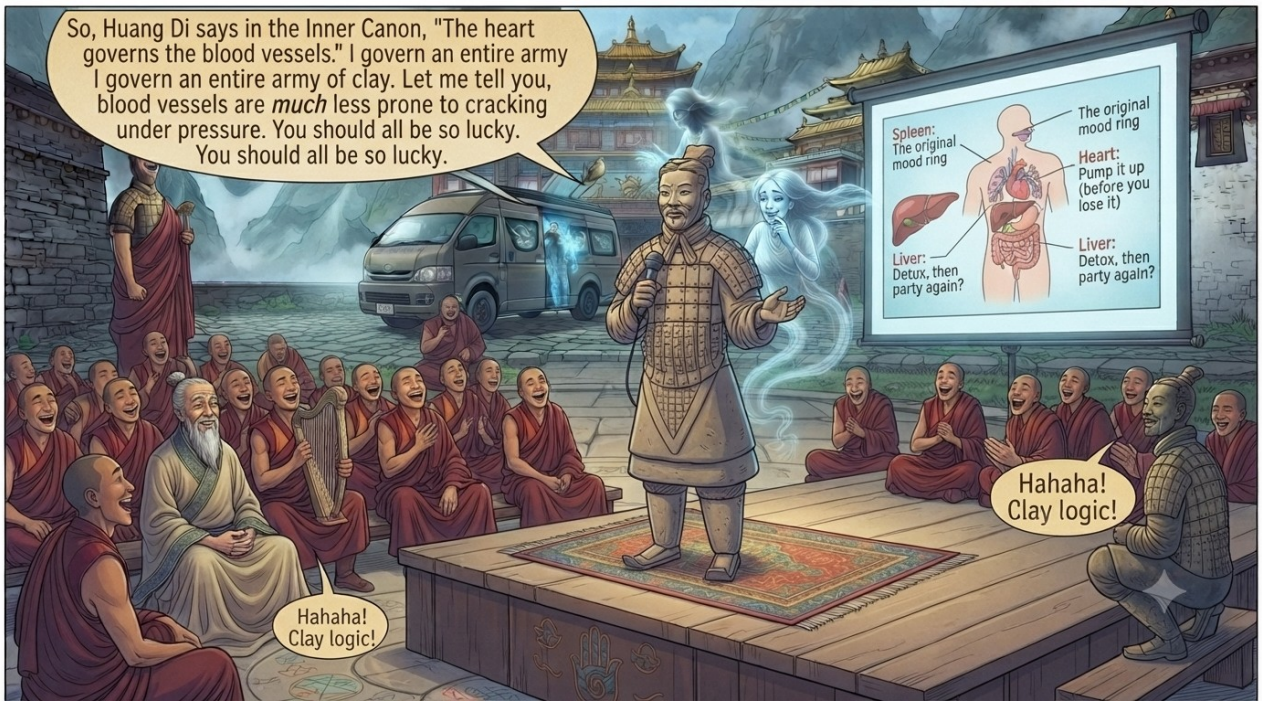
THE LEGACY RENEWED: A NEW ERA OF HARMONY.

The demon surrenders and begins its path as a monk.

Yak-Demon: "So, I asked the Abbot, "What's the sound of one hand clapping?" He said, "It's the sound of you eating my meditation snacks!"
Yak-Demon: "I tried to achieve Nirvana... but I kept getting distracted by the gift shop. I'm a sucker for miniature prayer wheels."
Yak-Demon: "They say attachment is the root of suffering. But have you seen the new iPhone? It's got a really good camera."
MONASTERY LAUGHTER NIGHT: STARRING VENERABLE DAKPA (THE YAK-DEMON).

"So, I was reading Chapter 53 of the Tao Te Ching the other day. It says, "If I have even just a little bit of sense, I should walk the Great Way." But then it asks, "Why are the courts so corrupt?" I mean, have you * seen the state of the capital? It's like they're trying to win an ward for Bureaucratic Chaos! They're all busy building mansions and riding fancy carriages while the fields are full of weeds! It's a "Great Way" to get rich, maybe, but not a Great Way to govern!
Hahaha! He's got a point!
True wisdom, indeed!
True wisdom, indeed!
What about the robes? Are they also corrupt?



So, Huang Di says in the Inner Canon, "The heart governs the blood vessels." I govern an entire army I govern an entire army of clay. Let me tell you, blood vessels are much less prone to cracking under pressure. You should all be so lucky. You should all be so lucky.

There comes a time...
...when we heed a certain call.
...when the world must come together as one.
There are people dying...
...and it's time to lend a hand to life.
